

List of the main publications on our Geological Heritage (up to June 1999)

This List prepared from a long time. It includes about 425 publications on the conservation of our geological heritage, published in over the European countries and partly from the other continents by the middle of 1999. As a working language is selected English, but the original language of the publications is shown also. For reduction of the List some of the publications (mainly collections, abstracts and proceedings volumes of meetings and conferences etc.) are described as one title only. Using the list of publications the possibility to find another publications is opened.

As a first attempt perhaps many of you will find some omissions and mistakes, especially with respect to the publications on separate national or local geological monuments, sites or problems. But I hope you will look at to them with indulgence and will do you best for their suspension and to inform your Colleagues and Friends in time as well, for which I would like cordially to thank you.

This List was especially finalised for the forthcoming 3rd International ProGEO Symposium in Spain on November 1999. It will be included in the homepage of ProGEO also.

With many thanks for your understanding and with hope this List will be useful for everybody. Truly yours, Todor

Sofia, 20 June 1999
